

WORK STARTS ON M. E. CHURCH--COMMUNITY HOUSE AT HEIGHTS

Work began Wednesday on the new church and community house being built by the First Methodist church of Arlington Heights. The contract was signed Monday with A. M. Schaefer & Son of Arlington Heights and the floor was torn out and the new part staked off on Wednesday.

There were five bidders, but A. M. Schaefer & Son made the lowest bid. This was pleasing to the congregation because Mr. Schaefer was the only local contractor who made a bid on the building.

The architect, Rowe, Dillard and Rowe gave opportunity to all local contractors who could qualify, but Mr. Schaefer was the only one who competed. It is understood that Mr. Schaefer will let the sub contracts so far as possible to local men.

Some of those who have been working on this project for over a year have had plenty of opportunity to become impatient with delays, but the congregation felt that it was best to have every detail properly attended to before the contract was signed.

A rather remarkable thing in connection with this building is that the congregation is a unit on the plan. All major votes on the project were unanimous, and the meetings authorizing the building were attended by an unusually large proportion of the members.

Dr. J. H. Odgers, district superintendent, said that the quarterly conference that authorized the building by unanimous vote was the largest he had seen in any church of the district, and this district includes some of the large churches in the city.

When the stakes were observed, many were surprised at the extent of the improvement. The new building will extend north from the present church for nearly half a block. And there will be a large addition on the west end.

Large and convenient quarters will be provided for the Sunday school. The church will have a large stage at the west end. It will serve as a dining room and gymnasium with a balcony as well as an entertainment room and Sunday school assembly.

The kitchen will be in a new part on the second floor, and above this will be two large dressing rooms with shower baths. The excavating will be for a heating plant and a choir room under the choir loft.

While no time for completion is specified in the contract, Mr. Schaefer has promised to keep the work going as rapidly as possible. The church will be able to hold all services in the old building until the new one is complete. The congregation may be put to a little inconvenience by being crowded at the Sunday school, but this is a sacrifice that will be made for the new quarters are anticipated.

The project is being financed through the Peoples State Bank. The congregation raised over $17,000 in cash with additional pledges. The bank will advance the rest that is needed until the pledges are paid or until additional donations are made. Because of the fact that the community house will be open to and will be conducted for the entire community, many outside the congregation have already contributed to the fund. It is expected that others will add considerable. So far, about $1,500 has come from outside the church.

Garage Employee Has Narrow Escape from Death When Pit Burns

Ed. J. Thompson, employed at the Irving Oil service station, corner of Northwest highway and State road, had a narrow escape from death Tuesday afternoon, when the oil pit in which he was employed caught fire. Friends pulled him to safety out of the pit, but he sustained severe burns about the hands and face. His glasses are probably the only thing that saved his sight. The blaze was extinguished by the chemical of the village fire department.

Mr. Thompson was working beneath the car and can give no reason for the blaze. The next instant, the pit was a mass of flames. Mr. Thompson was unable to gain access to the ladder and two men at hand grasped his hands and pulled him out of the pit in time to save his life. The cause of the fire is attributed to spontaneous combustion caused by a mixture of gases.

Buys 72 Acres Near New Race Track

Seventy-two acres at the north-east corner of Wilke Road and the Northwest highway, just outside of Arlington Heights and across from the site of the Illinois Jockey club's proposed race track, was purchased by Nelson Young from William Seegers for an indicated $100,000. It is understood the property is to be subdivided. Harry H. Talcott was attorney in the purchase negotiations.

ANNOUNCE OFFICIALS OF NEW TRACK

FAIR PREMIUM LISTS ARE OUT

The 1927 catalog and premium lists are now making their appearance and just as fast as they are off the press, they will be distributed all over Cook county and neighboring counties. The premium lists are out a full month before fair time which will give everyone plenty of time to prepare to exhibit.

The Fair Association is again offering liberal premiums in the many departments and they urge everyone to study the premium lists and make liberal entries and help the association make 1927 the greatest year in the history of Cook county fair. Everyone remembers the awful weather during the 1926 fair and the fact that the association is even attempting to put on a 1927 fair is a tribute to the gameness of the fair association. Secretary Hart says that the only thing which will drive the memory of the 1926 nightmare out of his mind is a good week first of September and Cook county's best fair.

The fair officials have been untiring this summer in their work in building up the 1927 fair and a brisk demand for concession space and a growing interest in all departments of the fair is the result. The greatest horse racing program in the history of the fair is on the program with races afternoon and evening and some high class horse show features as well as five big circus acts on the platform in front of the grand stand.

Auto races on Labor Day will close the race program. Because of the weather last year which prevented all but one good day race receipts the association ran $4200 in the hole on the 1926 fair which can only be made up this year by the loyal support of the exhibitors and general public. The association reports a wonderful spirit of cooperation on the part of the creditors of the fair whose helpful cooperation and support is making it possible to continue this year. 1926 was by far the worst year in history on the fair of the central west. Many went under but many more like the Cook county fair are making heroic efforts to "come back," and they ask the support of the public in the effort.

Secretary Hart told a reporter of this paper that some fairs were so cutting down expenses at the expense of their exhibits and attractions that they were endangering their attendance by so doing. "We are saving every cent we can," said Mr. Hart but we have not cut our premium list a bit and we have so carefully planned around and selected out attractions and race program that we are offering the public what we think is the best program which we have ever presented. "The public will find the Cook County Fair giving them more than the average county fair, and they will find at Palatine some features entirely new." "In our flood lit track and night races we are presenting to the public a feature never before attempted in this part of the country and one which we believe will make a tremendous hit."

$60,000 Fire At Feehanville School
St. Mary's Catholic Training school at Feehanville suffered a loss estimated at $60,000 by fire about midnight July 27-28, when the large barn full of new mown hay was totally destroyed. All the nearby towns quickly responded to the appeal for help and thus prevented the fire from spreading to the school house and the many other large buildings on the 500 acre farm.

Home Building In Arlington Hts. Keeps Pace with Neighbors
The building activity in Arlington Heights is not as great as last year according to local material men but Mr. Dodge of the Tibbits Cameron Lumber Company states the City of God Neighbors is holding its own in that respect in competition to neighboring villages. There is probably only one other suburban village in Cook county that has erected more homes than Arlington Heights this year. When Mr. Dodge says "homes," he means the single type of houses and that term does not apply to the apartment buildings.

Mr. O. G. Barrett, Cook county farm adviser, bears out the statement of Mr. Dodge. Mr. Barrett states that he travels through many villages in his trips from one end of the county to the other and he has yet found not a single one that is equalling Arlington Heights for the building of homes. Building conditions in the south end of the county are very quiet. Mr. Parker has the roof on one house opposite the Honeymoon home and has started work upon another. Geo. Meyer is also busy upon a house in the same neighborhood.

The contractors in order to keep their workmen busy must hesitate to build houses upon them as they realize that there is going to be an ever increasing demand for houses in Arlington Heights.

Frank Sauer, having sold his home is at work upon a new house for himself, which he will erect on Walnut street. J. O. Bouffard is building a house on Belmont and George street, in the Harris subdivision.

To the inquiry of Mr. Barrett as to the exact position that Arlington Heights occupies in the building industry of homes this year, Mr. Dodge gave his belief that the village stood at the head of the list last year aside from the North Shore towns and this year it is holding second place.

RED CROSS IN APPEAL FOR CLOTHING
We have just received a wire from the Red Cross in Washington telling of the urgent need for light weight, clean, serviceable clothing in that southern territory where the drier were last to recede. Suits, dresses and underwear for men and women, and clothing for children of all ages is especially needed. Our quota is five carloads.

Will you be good enough, therefore, to make this appeal in your community through those sources which will bring the best results, such as the press, churches, clubs, lodges and other agencies?

For your convenience, we are enclosing several copies of instructions.

Yours very sincerely,
Maurice R. Reddy.
Instructions

1. Send only light weight clothing because of the climatic conditions in the devastated area.

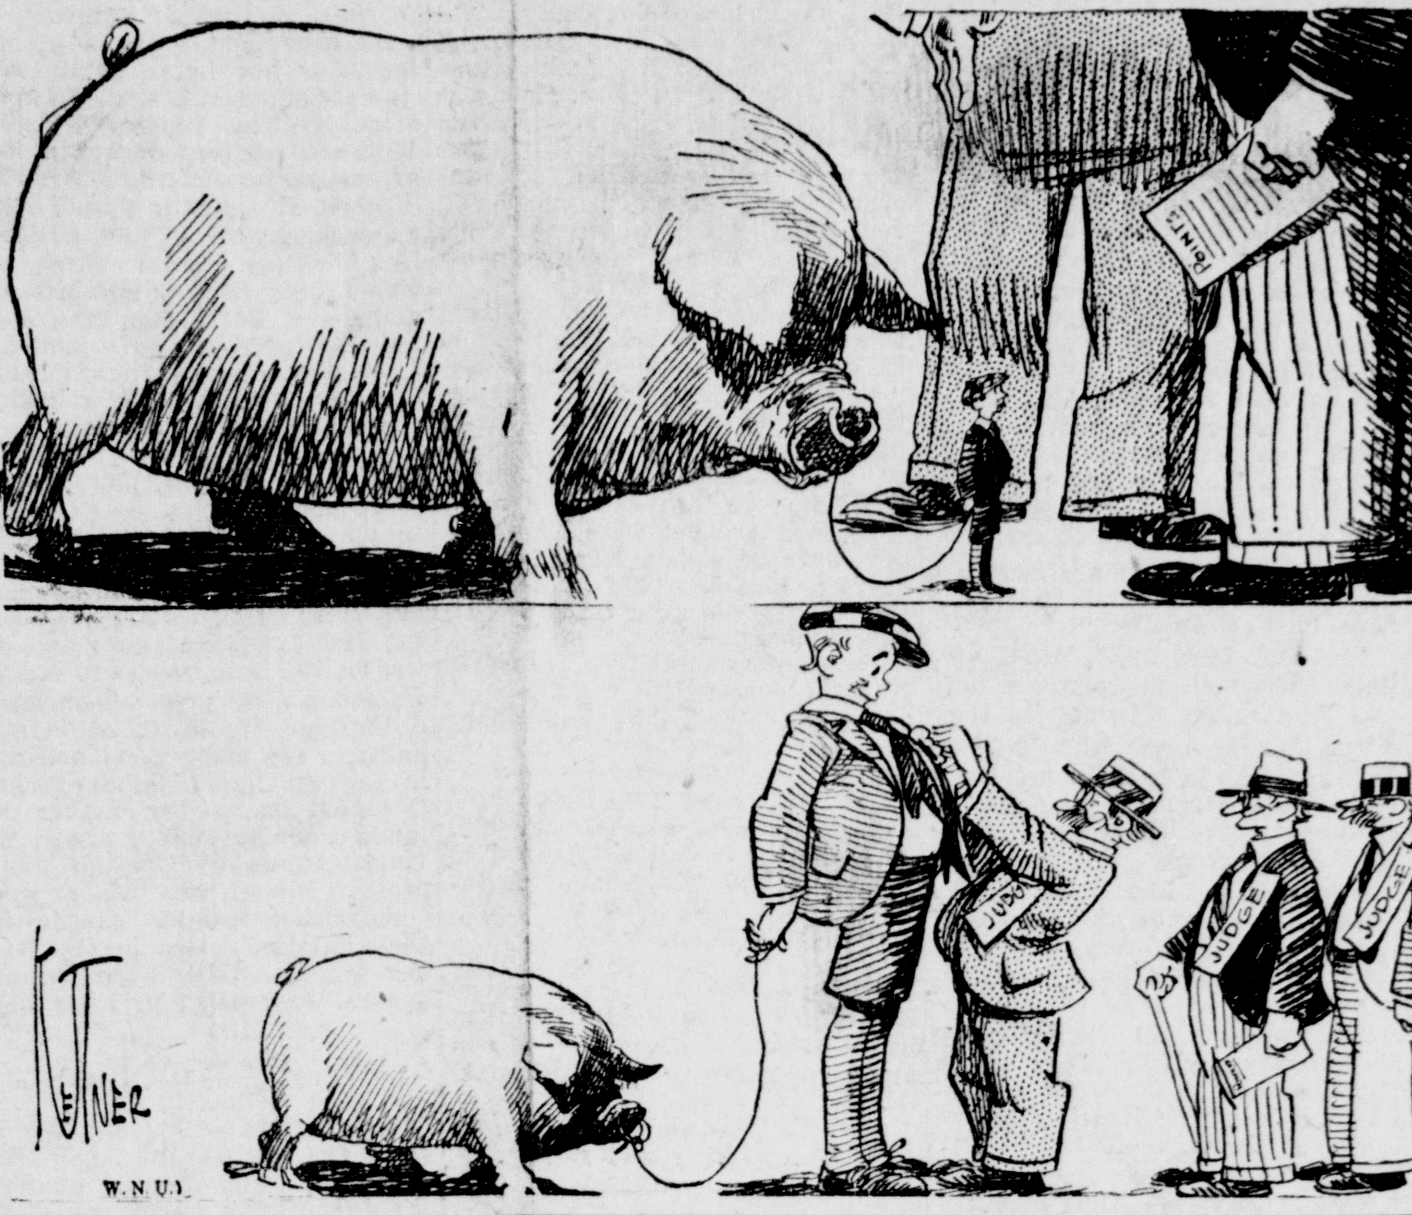

2. Garments for men are needed, but wearing apparel of all sizes for women and children is particularly desirable.

3. All clothing should be sorted and packed and packages should be labeled "For Men," "For Women," "For Children."

4. Torn or unclean garments should not be sent.

5. Please assure those who cooperate with you in this clothing collection that in the devastated region everyone is rich in gratitude for the splendid assistance already given.

Race Track Project

Brings Business to Many Local Stores

Tibbits Cameron Lumber Co., which is furnishing a large amount of building material for the race track reports that 300 of the cars that have entered those grounds contained sand and gravel that was purchased through them. Their sales to the same project has also included cement and other materials.

This firm is not the only one that is being benefited in a business way by the race track activity. Peter & Gorsuch, the local jewelers have found that steel workers use an unusual number of watches. They have sold over thirty timepieces the past month to men employed at the track. The experience of the jewelers is being duplicated in other business lines. Ed. Bolte reports that his stock of hip boots was exhausted in one day by the cement workers. An official of the Geomay Rubber Co. came out to Arlington Heights to learn the "why for" of the demands for hip boots.

Walter Sieburg, the druggist, has not made many sales direct to the track, but he finds that the evening business from strangers employed at the track is noticeable and he is looking forward to increased trade as soon as the track is open for racing. The local hardware store report similar experiences in the line of small supplies. If there is any doubt as to the business that will bring to Arlington Heights, that doubt is now removed.

Dempsey-Tunney Fight

May Open New Track

Arlington Park, the new $2,000,000 race track and fair grounds may be the scene of the coming championship prize fight between Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey, if rumors now floating around are to be given credence. These rumors have it that if the south park board of Chicago refuses the use of Soldiers Field for the fight, then the big scrap will be held at Arlington Park and will be the opening sporting event in this new $2,000,000 play ground of the rich.

President Kelly of the South Park board has asked for a public expression as to whether or not the fight should be held at Soldiers Field. On the result of that public expression depends the issue of where the fight will be held as far as Soldiers Field is concerned. If the big Grant Park stadium is not available the Chicago boosters for the fight will have to look around for a site and it is pointed out that the new Arlington Park offers every advantage for such an event.

The new grand stand is fast nearing completion. Temporary seats sufficient to seat over 100,000 spectators could be built in a month's time on the big 900 acre tract owned by the racing syndicate. Ample parking space for all autos is readily available, train service on the Northwestern is at hand and the setting is all there to make Arlington Park the scene of the world's greatest prize fight. One rumor even has it that one of the fighters will train out in Plum Grove, south of hte new park and that negotiations are already under way to locate a training camp out in that quiet woods. With the Aladdin like construction of the new park which is springing into being almost overnight, nothing would be surprising. The new park is backed by some of the best known capitalists and sporting figures in America as shown by the list of directors given out a few days ago and nothing would be surprising with such a galaxy of wealth and business ability behind it.

We are sure to see racing at Arlington--this fall and we may even see the big championship prize fight there.

How times have changed on these quiet prairies along the banks of old Salt Creek.

Truck Growers to Make Inspection Trip Over Farms Thurs.
No doubt many of you will recall that about this time last summer a half day was spent visiting and inspecting the Cook County Experiment Station grounds and in touring various farms in the northern part of the county. This visit was so heartily approved of last year, by the parties interested, that another tour of like nature has been proposed for this year. Thursday, August 4, is the date chosen for the inspection and all gardeners are invited to attend. The meeting place will be at the Experiment Station, about one mile west of DesPlaines, at 12:30 noon. The experimental grounds will be visited with Mr. E. P. Lewis, head of the establishment showing and explaining the various experiments being conducted and the success obtained. The necessity of combining science with the agricultural industry is continually becoming more compulsory and this inspection tour should be very beneficial to all. Remember the date, August 4, at 12:30 noon, at the Cook County Experiment Station.

HOMES NEED OVER HEAD PROTECTION FROM PLANES

A resident of Morton Grove has written a letter to the Voice of the People column in reference to the unrestricted operation of the airplane field in that village. At a recent meeting of the village board of that village, some action was considered. The recent death of two young men proves that some control over the operation of such fields must be enforced. The letter from the Morton Grove resident follows. His views in regard to the Morton Grove field can also be applied to other such fields that are springing up in increasing numbers throughout the suburban district.

Editor Cook County Herald.

Dear Sir: In a very recent issue of your paper you announced the opening of a new airplane field on Dempster street, inside the limits of Morton Grove. Planes formerly flying from the old landing field at the north end of School street seem to be using the new field, as well as several planes not formerly used in Morton Grove.

Saturday, July 23, a plane from this field made a "nose dive" immediately west of the "Lighthouse" in a field, within a few feet of Dempster highway pavement. Sunday, July 24, a second plane from this new flying field dropped to the ground. In the first case, the pilot only, occupied the plane; the plane dug deep into the earth on falling and was badly damaged. As most of our residents know, the second instance was unspeakably terrible, two young men being burned to death and the pilot being injured. A Chicago banner the next day gave a report of the occurrence stating that the plane was a very old one.

Is it fair to the people who have built up our community, to have this menace within our limits? Many of our citizens have all of their worldly possessions tied up in their home and its contents. A fall like either of the above, if the plane should hit any house in the village, would probably mean the entire destruction of that home, as well as injury to members of the family.

Railways are required to use certain equipment and safeguards; automobiles are to a large extent regulated, traffic is directed and certain safeguards are in force for the protection of the public. Are we going to sit quietly by and allow another type of "common carrier" to enjoy experimental and earning privileges within our village, without any safeguards for our homes and families? If, as stated by the Chicago American, noon edition July 25, the plane in which the two young men were burned to death was crash built during the late world war period, what assurance have we that other planes possibly too old, or inadequate for safety may not be used for flying over our homes?

Is it possible that any person who has the price of a worn-out airplane, and who can take a course in flying, can go when and where they please over our community, without our public having any assurance that the flyer is experienced and competent, or that the plane is reasonably safe? And what would be our chances of collecting insurance if an airplane should crash through a house? If the house burned, fire insurance might be paid; but if a home were burned by the crash of a plane, or even a small proportion of our home-owners,--protected by insurance from such a possibility as loss from such cause?

It has been recently stated in the press that thirty students of aviation are being instructed in the new Morton Grove field. One of the planes used at the field has been a sign stating that it is an experimental plane. No doubt some of the pilots using the field are capable and experienced, as would naturally be the case in a field where beginners are instructed. Is it necessary for flying fields to be located within the limits of a residential community? All about our village are hundreds of acres of open fields, many of which are not under cultivation.

If our property owners and citizens are in favor of certain reasonable safety requirements for flyers over their homes and places of business, they should make known their views to our public officials, so that steps may be taken which will afford at least partial assurance of safety to our property and our families. A Constant Reader.

Many Visit Library Sunday Afternoons
The Arlington Heights public library has been open to the public for the past three Sunday afternoons, and the patronage it has had at those times is sufficient to indicate that Sunday is a convenient time to use this source of good reading.

The 21 magazines in the library are not being used quite as much as they deserve. The list is a carefully chosen one, and there is magazine reading for all ages and all tastes. Come to the library any Wednesday, Saturday or Sunday afternoon or Wednesday or Saturday evenings.

No doubt rumors are flying about in birdland about the air monsters which will devour bad lit- tle birds.

Has Palatine Enough Business District?

Has Palatine already got enough business property zoned for business to take care of its immediate needs and the future needs for some time to come? That is the question which the Palatine Zoning Board of Appeals would like to have the public answer. There is at the present time between seventy five and one hundred blocks of frontage zoned for business in Palatine. The A. T. McIntosh Company has made application to the board of appeals to have all of their Plum Grove Ave. frontage zoned for a business district.

The McIntosh people have already sold many lots fronting on Plum Grove Ave. for business purposes although the zoning laws of Palatine designate that territory as a Class B residence district which means that residences on flat buildings may be built there.

The application of McIntosh to have it zoned for business is apparently an effort to protect their contracts and make good to their buyers, although we understand that their contract has a clause whereby it provides that the said property is sold for business purposes unless such action conflicts with the zoning laws of the village.

The Board of Appeals postponed action on the application to August 15 at which time an adjourned hearing will be held at the village hall at 8 p. m.

Many people fear that the making of a business street leading into Palatine a business street is a mistake and that visitors will get a poor impression of the town by passing a lot of "dumpy" business places, hot dog emporiums, etc., before entering the town.

Plum Grove Ave. is one of the most beautiful streets in Palatine and the Board of Appeals would like to know if the residents of that street and other residents as well approve of making its southern part a business street.

This is also a question which should be given vital consideration by every business man in the "old" business district. With the N. W. highway zoned for business from the bend at Colfax street to Rohwing road and with Chicago Ave. zoned for business from the highway to the Rohwing road it would seem that the intention of the subdividers is to provide each end of town with a business district of its own and thereby take business men of Palatine should wake up to the menace of too much business district and the general public should be alive to the needs of keeping Palatine the village beautiful which it is today. Too much business territory means no business for anyone, depreciates the value of all business property and mars the beauty of the residence sections. What do the people of Palatine want? How do they feel about it? That's what the zoning board would like to know and it is hoped that there will be a rousing big meeting August 15 when the Plum Grove Ave. hearing comes up again.

Grandma Schoppe Celebrates Her 91st Birthday Sunday
Grandma Schoppe, mother of Chas. Henry, Louis and Harry, celebrated her 91st birthday Sunday at her home in Palatine. Mrs. Schoppe is still able to get about the house and her mind is exceedingly active for a woman of her age. 27 relatives were present during the afternoon.

Deafness Not Lasting
Airplane deafness is only a transient disability lasting at most a few hours. It is caused largely by the crack of the exhaust. The main remedies are technical, such as the use of silencers, while the aviator may use some form of ear stopper, either a simple plug of oiled cotton or mechanical stoppers attached to his cap or helmet.

Spiders' Wonder Marking
Adult females of the garden spider may measure over an inch in length, says Nature Magazine. They are beautifully marked with spots and bands of black and bright orange yellow, while the males are about one-fourth as large.

Good Manners
To want the best of everything, the first chance, the last word, is childishness human. But to be able to stand aside and cheerfully, wholeheartedly make room for another is the mark of high breeding. It is also the sign of a beautiful spirit.

Unproductive Area
The area in the United States where trees once grew but where nothing now grows is as large as the states of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland combined. It is larger than the combined forest lands of Germany, Belgium, Denmark, Holland, France, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal.

Mrs. Haemker Death A Shock to Palatine And Arlington Heights

The death of Mrs. Rose Haemker manager of the Davis store at Arlington Heights, was a great shock to both residents of Palatine, who knew the deceased so well in earlier years of her life and to Arlington Heights people, with whom she has been associated the past nine years. During her serious illness the past three months her real condition was not realized by her friends. With her departure upon the arrival of hot weather, for her summer cottage at Slocum's Lake, her complete recovery was looked forward to. Last Saturday she became worse and it was only a matter of a few hours before death would claim her. She died Monday morning. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kossack, pastor of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church, officiated. Mrs. Hawley and Mr. Colquhoun of Barrington sang. Forty floral expressions of sympathy from relatives and friends banked the casket. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery at Barrington.

Rose Stockel was born at Quenton Corners June 11, 1900. She was confirmed in 1914 in St. Paul's church at Palatine and later became a business woman. The past nine years she has acted as manager of the Davis store at Arlington Heights. Five years ago, she was united in marriage to Mr. Ed. Haemker. She was a member of Sutherland W. R. C. of Palatine and was for many years a teacher in the St. Paul's Sunday school. Deceased leaves her father and mother, her husband, a sister, Mrs. Mable Lyons of Chicago and a brother, Emory, who lived at home.

Arlington Heights people feel that Palatine's loss is also their loss and upon all sides are heard a general expression of sympathy.

Windy Wolf Says:

Superstition.—How can we account for the absurd superstition that "13" is an unlucky number? We do not know who is responsible for this belief, yet many a hotel omits 13 in numbering its floors. A big apartment house in Detroit has no room number 13. Seat No. 13 is hard to sell in the Pullman Company cars. Who among us has not somewhere in his list of friends a man, or oftener a woman, who declines to set at a table with just twelve other persons? Now let us tell you why no American should be superstitious about the number 13.

"13" is written all over our country. First, there were 13 colonies; then the first flag had 13 stars and 13 stripes. "Revolutionary" which tells us of the greatest war, has 13 letters in it; so has "E Pluribus Unum" and "American Eagle," our motto and our emblem. Now take the quarter of a dollar; there are 13 stars over the head of Liberty, 13 leaves in the olive branch held by the eagle, 13 thunderbolts in his talons, 13 bars on the shield, 13 feathers in each wing, and 13 letters spell "quarter dollar." Perry's great naval battle was fought September 13th, 1813, and our famous "John Paul Jones" has 13 letters in his name, and was 13 when he came to America; he carried the first flag of 13 stars to victory. The first fleet ordered by the American government consisted of 13 vessels.

Pat was called as a witness and was being examined as to his knowledge of a shooting affair. "Did you see the shot fired?" the magistrate asked. "No, sir, I only heard it," was the evasive reply. "The evidence is not satisfactory," replied the magistrate sternly. "Stand down!"

The witness turned round to leave the box and directly his back was turned he laughed derisively. The magistrate, indignant at this contempt of court, called him back and asked him how he dared to laugh in court.

"Did you see me laugh, your honor?" queried the offender. "No, sir, but I heard you," was the irate reply.

"That evidence is not satisfactory," said Pat. And this time everybody laughed.

My wife is vacationing at the seashore. She has been writing me that she needs more clothes. I didn't agree with her until she sent me a snapshot of herself taken on the beach.

Women are doing great things in the world today, but the most remarkable accomplishment of the female sex is having learned to keep as warm by being in style as their mothers used to keep by being in clothes.

The fashions never seem to follow the same lines for very long at a time and we fully expect to live to see the day when our startled impression will be that the girls are coming out of the tops of their dresses, instead of out of the bottom, as at present.

Centennial State
Colorado is called the Centennial state because it was admitted into the Union as a state in 1876, the centennial of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence. Colorado was proclaimed a state on August 1, 1876, by President Grant. The name Colorado is merely the Spanish word for red.

Auto Racing At Palatine Sunday

Sports enthusiasts who enjoy good auto racing will find their fill at the Dean track at Palatine next Sunday. The Lake Shore Racing Association, who are promoting auto racing this season in such towns as Milwaukee, Racine, Cedarburg and Sheboygan, have made arrangements with the owners of the track to hold a meet in Palatine. Auto racing sponsored by the association are bonafide events—no fixed races. It is strongly competitive and thus awe inspiring. From 20 to 25 racing cars are expected at the meet. The events include four five mile events and a ten mile finale.

The racing will start at 2:30 standard time (3:30 daylight saving). The drivers are from such towns as Joliet, Wheaton, Lombard, Aurora, Elgin, Waukegan, and Milwaukee. There will be no charge for parking.

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY

Automobile and other street accidents have become so numerous in many cities that campaigns have been commenced to teach the public, pedestrians as well as drivers of vehicles, the wisdom of exercising care on the public streets.

Investigations of accidents on the streets have developed that a large percent of them is avoidable; that they are the result of carelessness on the part of the driver of the vehicle or the pedestrian who is the worst sufferer when a collision occurs.

Men and women rush across the streets or between street cars and vehicles, apparently without any thought of the dangers they face in doing so. Many persons can be seen leaving a street car and crossing the street behind the car, thereby running the risk of being struck by a car passing on the "blind" side.

Automobile drivers are not blameless in the matter. Many of them take a chance in rushing across a street ahead of a street car or another automobile, all for the evident purpose of saving a few seconds, as if the saving of time justified them in running the risk of being struck.

The drivers of vehicles are blamed for many more accidents than should be charged to them. Pedestrians have a responsibility which they should not attempt to evade. It is much easier for the individual to wait a few seconds than it is for the driver of an automobile to stop to prevent striking a person who has rushed into the middle of the street in thoughtless haste.

Every person, driver or pedestrian, who uses the streets has in his power to aid in making the streets safe for all.

Regularity in worship will deepen our insight and experience of God as our Father; and how different is life after we have this revelation. In our daily tasks we then feel that we work beneath his eye. If we play, it is in the light and encouragement of His smile. Earth's sunshine and happiness are the sweeter. And in the seasons of darkness we feel the gentle, soft hand of the Father granting us repose and giving reassurance that all is well. Regularity of earnest fellowship with the Lord will do just that for us and that is all we need.

Mr. Wm. Geweke and Rev. Heidtke had a delightful trip to Lake Geneva, Wis., this week. On their way they called on several old acquaintances, at Wilmet, Stades Corners, New Minister, etc. The people up there are all complaining of lack of rain. Yet in spite of the lack of rain the crops on the whole looked very good, the grain especially. The outlook for a good corn harvest is however not so bright. Coming to Lake Geneva the two gentlemen also visited Joe Hoss, Joe Heinrich and Ed Guenther who have summer homes in the very beautiful location of the Burchess subdivision on the east side of the lake. Mr. Ed Guenther had just returned from a few minutes fishing and showed the gentlemen some fine 6 to 7 pound bass. They have a very fine beach. You can wade 150 feet into the water on a clean sandy bottom. Joe Heinrich, always thrifty, combined business with pleasure and has erected three very fine, substantial cottages for sale.

Mrs. Henry Fink and sons Harold and Eugene left July 26 for Tucson, Ariz., to visit her daughter, Mrs. Dilg and little Shirley Dilg.

Rev. Heidtke and Rev. Toepel went on a fishing trip Tuesday and caught two beautiful strings of blue fish. The clergymen bemoan the fact that Illinois is not Wisconsin in the line of fish. Bluegills are no brook trout. The clergymen are no youngsters at the fishing game. They learned the art in old Wisconsin.

Agnes Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. August Sells and his wife Agnes, nee Kidd, was christened by Rev. Heidtke July 27. Sponsors Mrs. Elizabeth Kidd and Miss Elenor Staehle.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Wander east and wander west, Fish and boatride without rest, Sing gay songs, and spin your lies, Feed mosquitoes, gnats, and flies. But you'll find on coming home Of all places 'neath the dome, Home, sweet home is best.

Took a trip, tried living at a resort, got so far away you could not even send the great catch of fish home, missed the fruit and fresh vegetables you were accustomed to have, altogether had rather a sorry time "making believe" you enjoyed the bats, the bugs, and mosquitoes. Yes, home is a good place to come to.

If we would live the same simple life on the back porch, or under the trees, in the garden; eat off paper plates, cook plain food, and take long auto excursions, with home our rendezvous at night. We could get change and joy and the simple life right here at home. Here's a precedent and a suggestion for our Judge Byrd. Three boys out in California, 6, 8 and 10 broke into a candy store and filled their little (?) tummies, and otherwise stowed away $15 worth of candy for which they were assigned by court edict to pull weeds at the rate of 25 cents an hour until they had paid for the candy. When parents fail in their teaching and oversight of children it is well to know that wise administrators of law, know what is good for them. Those boys won't want any candy very soon.

Our home doctors would be drummed out of town if they should talk to their patients, as Doctors Brady and Evans reply to honest questions asked of them through the "News" and Tribune. Here is one of their inane answers to some one who inquires "what diet is best for sciatica?" Brady replies, "I don't know, but pork and cabbage are fine for a sprained ankle." This when they are posing as intelligent physicians to answer questions, pertaining to health. Think of it!

The Lutheran Walthers League in a recent convention in St. Louis took a firm and commendable stand against the "Flood of Vicious Literature" a challenge to disseminate wholesome Christian literature with energy. It is a part of a resolution passed by the league. It is gratifying to those who have watched with alarm the trend of modern fiction, scarce to be dignified as "literature." I say it is gratifying to learn that this Christian league are aware of the danger and glad of their timely action.

Books are divided into two classes—good books, and bad books, and when any clean minded man or woman with right ideals of life—reads the "best sellers," asking for a place in our homes and libraries. They cannot conscientiously call them or class them as "good books." Many of them are not only bad books, but they are dangerous, and few, yes very few of them can lay claim to being literature in its best sense. Beware of bad books!

Have you observed the carelessness of smokers in throwing away burning cigar stubs, and cigarettes? In present dry conditions of all wooden buildings and loose boards and timbers, and even the growth of ripened grass and weeds among the streets and walks, too great care cannot be taken in throwing down so much dry soil the least spark of fire. Last Sunday, what might have proved a destructive fire was started in the vicinity of the E. W. A. Rowles plant. Fortunately Mr. Kurt Stoeckel saw the fire and with Mr. Strand's assistance the fire was put out—and that by strenuous action.

Had it been at a time when these men, or other men, were at work, the fire might have destroyed all the buildings near by, as it was it came within the distance of the street width to the Rowles works. Even the green, but dry, hot grass on the Dunton field was burned clean for at least an acre of space. Beware of throwing down so much dry soil the least spark of fire. Last Sunday, what might have proved a destructive fire was started in the vicinity of the E. W. A. Rowles plant. Fortunately Mr. Kurt Stoeckel saw the fire and with Mr. Strand's assistance the fire was put out—and that by strenuous action.

There's a heap of gossip flying about. That loses a lot her sifted out. "Somebody's bought, somebody's sold."

"And someone is making a lot of gold." Then some whispers "in Arlington Heights. Nine-tenths of the houses have mortgages on." What to believe, how can one know. Either from mouth to mouth. Or by radio?

True it is in Arlington Heights "great events are on the gale," "and each wind brings a varying tale," of startling real estate transfers and enormous profits. And equally true it is you can only believe half you hear and must yourself decide which half.

Some of our home workmen who have been in the habit of working for home employers in home industries, find work in the race tracks, altogether a different proposition. Contracts taken to be finished at a certain date, with great loss in case of failure, require work to be carried on strenuously, continuously and on schedule, in order to prevent a forfeit of bonus. This is just as true in any other business for self or for home employers.

Everybody has children, to some the claim extends only over three two or more, born to them; to some of us it extends over all the children in the community. These are all mine. Here is a little story about one of "mine."

Observed the past week: Stella's aunt made a custard pie, Gave her a piece on a plate—O my!

Without the spoon Stella made a grab, And her pie lit on the floor ker-dab! Custard side down, her aunt cried out— "Bad girl, what were you thinking about?" "You're to blame yourself," the child replied; You put the custard on the wrong side!"

Out west of our house, on a piece of ground formerly our pretty weedless flower garden, as some will remember. The village dumped clay along Miner street on our side two years ago, and in that soil were the seeds that this year produced enormous Canada thistles. Recently I am pleased to note that our vigilant street commissioner has cut them down. There are too many in and about the town who are allowing these pestiferous weeds to grow on their property. One of them, will seed a whole community. Do clear them out.

If you read the "paid for" funny stories told about little children you know they are not half so funny as we hear in real life. I could myself tell hundreds about children I've actually known. One about a bright little girl who is now married and gone away, who had heard her home folks reading of all that their "forefathers" did. After puzzling over it, in her mind "a while she said, isn't it funny they used to have four fathers, and now I only have one? I'm sure Mrs. Martens has known in her kindergarten work instances as amusing as this one a teacher in the city tells us.

The kindergarten had been studying about wind all the week, its power, its effects, etc., until the subject was pretty well exhausted. To stimulate interest the teacher said in her most enthusiastic manner, "children as I came to school today in the trolley car, the door opened and something came softly in and kissed me on the cheek. What do you think it was?" And the children joyfully answered "the conductor!" "I'm going to get Mrs. Martens to tell me a better one than this next week."

Gardens are having a hard struggle all about Arlington Heights. In the hot sun yesterday even the weeds—sturdy old pioneer pests of the soil wilted to the ground. That horrid varmint they call potato blight has done his darndest. And yet, digging into some hills in our garden we found at least three or four potatoes; and to prove honest intentions, the seed potato we planted was yet fairly sound. Now what do you know about that? Three fold for our labor, and the seed to boot!

The month of July has been a month of many changes, and of many activities in Arlington Heights. Vacation for many, helpful healthful changes, and joyful experiences. It has been a sad month for many. Death has taken loved ones from the homes of some of our families. Three of our young people were taken, within one week. The tragic death of Herman Gaare, cast a shadow over all. He was so young so inexperienced. To some joy and to others sadness, so goes the month away. "Into each life some shadows fall." —August enters—

July wanes, and August comes, On the air midsummer hums. Early fledglings leave their nests. Autos come with city guests; Business rates in smaller sums; July wanes and August comes.

July brought a varied store. Bridal tours and trips galore. Spread out fields of gorgeous flowers, Gracious sunshine, cooling showers, July was a generous dame— Glad our greeting when she came.

Come now sit, and slowly tell How she served you, fair and well, Gave you weather, cool and fine. Auto trips where waters shine; Quickly, happily did fly. All her days, good old July!

Brought messages from far-off friends. Full of love that never ends, Gave you faith and peaceful days. All along her changing ways, She was kindly all in all. July! Let the curtain fall!

July wanes, and August comes, On the roof woodpecker drums, Out of foliage green as green, On the grass today were seen Scarlet leaves that hint of fall— Off the trees so green and tall.

In July, some things befell. Tragic, sorrowful to tell; When the morn to some was glad. Night brought grief, and partings sad.

At the parting of her ways July had some heartache days.

Hail to August! Empress fair; Purple clusters in her hair, Bounty binds her golden sheaves; Silver gossamer she weaves. Over orchard, meadows, field. Fruits and grain her crown and shield.

August reaps the golden store. Spring and summer toiling bore; Fruit of orchard, fruit of vine. All superbly round her twine; July wanes, and August comes, Sounding harvests "machine" drums.

August on her golden shield, Bears the wealth to harvest yield. On the roof woodpecker drums; Here our harvest matron comes. Hail to August! Empress fair! Purple clusters bind her hair. —Elinore Crisler Haynes.

BENSENVILLE

The Fox family were among those who attended the big circus at Grant Park last week.

Mrs. Arthur Baucke brot many of her friends out from Chicago Sunday. All attended the Friedens church picnic and assisted in making the picnic the success that it was.

Mrs. Rock and family of Des Plaines attended the picnic at Bensenville Sunday.

The DesPlaines Men's club paid their annual visit to the Orphan Home at Bensenville and left a liberal donation to go toward the expense of the new building.

Mr. Gardapee returned Saturday from four weeks vacation which he spent visiting a sister near Windsor, Canada. Mr. Gardapee on his going trip made wonderful time, he left Bensenville at 4:15 a. m. and covered the 334 miles, deducting three hours for stopping for cats, oil and gas supply, and arrived at his journey end at 4:30 p. m. This sure good time but we know from experience that Mr. G. knows how to step on the gas when the way is clear ahead.

James O'Keefe family accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cuneen boarded the O'Keefe Studebaker July 19 and headed towards Waukegan, Wis., the former home of the O'Keefe family. They returned Thursday evening. Mr. O'Keefe says as soon as he arrived home he hastily opened the house and turned on the radio just as Dempsey hit the last blow of the great fight in New York. Their son Kerin remained in Wisconsin another week to visit his aunts and is expected to return home the last of this week.

J. Cain, sales manager at Elm Villa, became weak from over exertion Sunday and was hastily taken to the Fox Hotel where he got a much needed rest. Being a very active man, also well along in years, he could leave nothing undone in the way of showing prospective buyers the location and advantages of this beautiful new subdivision and just kept going a little too long for a man of his age. His heart and soul are in his work and after having a good sound sleep and a much needed rest at the hotel he awoke and asked how the people had enjoyed their picnic. A few days rest will no doubt put him back on his feet.

Miss Lena Franzen celebrated another mile post in her young life July 25 and entertained a few of her friends who called to help her honor the occasion.

Friday, July 29, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Evangelical Association will hold their meeting at the Orphan Home grounds. This auxiliary has over 2000 members and they are active in the business financing of the new buildings that are being erected.

August 28, the annual festival of the Orphan Association will be held on the Orphan Home grounds. It is expected that as the buildings will be far along by that time that many thousands of people from the city will attend the festival which is always been a great success. It is believed that the opportunity to look over the great improvements that are being made will bring out many thousands more this year than ever before. A splendid program will be arranged and we will endeavor to publish in the Register the week before the big day.

The M. W. A. lodge held their first meeting in its new quarters Monday evening V. C. Fred Warneke drove over from Oak Park and filled his official chair. Neighbor Fred Volberding also reported for roll call and asked to be excused as he had company at his home whom he wished to visit with that evening.

George Shaw accompanied by G. E. Sampson and Gerald Sampson drove to the Cubs Park Wednesday and witnessed the Cubs win a game—all but the last inning and that was the one that counted. The Cubs had the game won and just seemed to take pity on the Giants and made them a present of it.

While we were unable to attend the base ball game Sunday between Bensenville and Arlington Heights from all reports it was a game worth seeing and one that the White Sox and the pennant chasing Cubs would have enjoyed watching. The score at the end of the contest was 4 to 0 in favor of the Bensenville Boosters. Harold Franzen who pitched for the Boosters was in perfect condition and allowed but four hits in the entire game, while Hagerty pitching for the opposition let the Boosters get 12 hits. But when two teams play a 4 to 0 game we claim that both sides are up and playing the game all the time, Saturday, August 6, the Boosters will play at the annual picnic at Roselle.

We are more than pleased to report that Mrs. Bodenburger, who has been suffering all summer from an attack of rheumatism, is much improved and is now able to walk up town. She surely had a siege of it and friends rejoice in seeing her so much improved.

Work on the new Orphan Home buildings is progressing nicely and the first section of roofing has been placed on the boys building and another week all the buildings will be under roof.

Miss Laura DiVall of Wisconsin visited her brother Robt. DiVall and family last week.

Mr. Hindenburg has moved into his new cottage on May street. His daughter is employed at the Fox hotel during the day time. This permits her being with her father evenings and nights and assisting with the work of keeping the family home bright and cheery.

Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Stanger have returned from a delightful vacation.

Oscar Franzen drove to the state capital and spent a few days. Business trip was his excuse for getting away a few days.

Otto Grobe has moved into the new building recently built by W. F. Franzen on Pine avenue. It is a splendid location and will be on the paved street as soon as the paving starts.

Edward Horn spent the week-end with his family who are spending the summer at Mauston, Wisconsin. Rev. Rander and family returned home Monday after two weeks vacation spent at Lake Winnebago, Wis. All enjoyed their outing just fine.

Don't forget the big time at Bensenville Sunday evening when the fire department put on their annual picnic at Koebman's park and pavilion. The fire fighters need the loyal support of everyone to make the picnic a financial success. If the weather plays fair with the boys and don't get the idea that they need a lot of water to make the picnic a success we are sure of a record crowd. Come out and see your fire department in action.

Wednesday evening, August 3, the Masonic club will hold their first meeting at the Franzen hall. The object of this meeting is to talk over the advisability of organizing a Masonic Lodge at Bensenville.

Miss Dorothy Moran entertained several friends Tuesday evening in honor of her 18th birthday. They attended a theatre party after which the happy young people returned to Miss Moran's home and discovered that Dorothy's mother had prepared a choice luncheon for them. Miss Dorothy was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. All departed after the pleasant evening wishing the young lady many more happy returns of the occasion.

Mr. C. L. Brown our telephone trouble shooter is soon to enjoy his annual vacation. We are informed that as the telephone company do not permit any of their employees who are on vacation to do any work whatever Mr. Brown is contemplating having a pole set in his back yard so he can take an occasional climb when he feels that he needs the exercise.

Miss Mildred Miller of Detroit is soon to visit her friend Miss Moran and enjoy a few days in our beautiful village.

Mrs. James Freeman and daughter have returned from a few weeks visit with her mother who resides in Iowa.

Mrs. Stephen Owens of Wooddale entertained the C. W. C. Wednesday afternoon at a basket lunch on the beautiful lawn that surrounds her home.

Mrs. John Sutherland and daughter of Rogers Park spent the week-end at the Stephen Owens home at Wooddale.

Mrs. Fred Volberding entertained her sisters at a 5 o'clock luncheon at her home one afternoon this week. Just a family gathering but oh, what a delightful time they had together.

Another business place is to be added to Bensenville. Our barber "Barney" has moved his shop from the Sprandel building to the Fox Hotel Annex. The shop vacated by "Barney" will be opened up by another first class workman from Chicago. This will give us four barber shops including the one on Irving Park boulevard which is also in the village limits. With four barber shops and three beauty parlors is it any wonder that our people are all noticeable for their smooth shaven faces and marcelled locks.

The new brick and stone depot platforms being laid at the depot are surely a great improvement and we only hope that autoists will have presence of mind enough to keep off of them with their cars. They are made to walk on and not drive on. Usually when people insist on driving on the depot platforms the railroad company put big ugly posts along the platform as a reminder and they are anything but attractive and we are in hopes that it will not be necessary to do this in our town.

Yes, we saw the Cubs. New York game Wednesday but if you want our opinion we believe the Bensenville-Arlington Heights game last Sunday would have given us more of a thrill than the big league game did; but the other 39,999 people who attended the big game and who knew nothing of the game we just mentioned certainly did get a lot of kick out of the big contest. Oh yes, we enjoyed it also but would have felt a little better if they had only played seven innings.

Itasca Country Club House

Itasca Country Club has grown steadily ever since its opening day. It now owns outright, 120 acres of rolling land that is exceptionally well suited for a golf course. There are 18 holes measuring 6,600 yards. There is a creek that must be crossed four times, making this one of the sportiest courses to be found in the Chicago district.

There are two fine clay courts for tennis near the club house entirely surrounded by a high wire fence that are at the disposal of the members at any time.

Last year the Club purchased equipment for a children's playground. The equipment will be in service again this year with an attendant if necessary.

The Itasca Country Club is really the hub of a new golfing center that has sprung up in this district the past few years. Medinah, Nordic, Elmhurst, Brookwood and a few others are located within two miles of Itasca, but not one of these clubs can be conveniently reached without the aid of an automobile. Itasca club is but a short walk from the station.

The Club House is of Colonial design, white walls with green roof and with a wide veranda running full length along the East Side, overlooking the course. The locker rooms, sensibly appointed, are in a wing of the Club House, assuring plenty of light and good ventilation. The veranda, lounge and grill may be made into one room for dancing by opening large French doors.

The golf grounds, laid out by Mr. James Foulis, Jr., will meet with the enthusiastic approval of the golfer who "knows." Mr. Foulis is a very well known among the golfing fraternity through his connections with the Olympic Fields, the Delevan, Edgewater and other country clubs in this section of the country. Every hole is different—there is not monotony in its layout.

Walter T. Anderson is the Club Professional.

Following are the officers and directors of the Itasca Country Club: Carl R. Hickey, President, Harvey A. Hanson, Vice-President, E. C. Morden, Secretary and Herman H. Franzen, Treasurer. The directors are B. B. Clover, L. J. Quetsch, M. G. Robinson, W. R. Cadwell, H. R. Rathbun, J. L. Shane and F. Wingquist.

MT. PROSPECT

Tuesday evening the village board held a special meeting to approve a plat and such other matters as would come up. Herman Hass was elected President pro tem. The plat of Lauder milk Villa comprising the E. Grimm farm and parts of G. Grimm and Reese farms was approved. Mr. Powell of the Bert H. Lauder milk Realty Ass'n. was granted permission to erect warning signs on the various highways entering the village and near the Stop and Go lights. The question of putting a comfort station in the village hall was brought up and the committee on health and drainage was instructed to proceed with their work. Attorney Thal had prepared a resolution on posting and advertising for bids on paving projects No. 19 and No. 20 which was passed, bids on these 2 jobs are to be opened August 9th at 8 p. m.

J. P. Moehling is going to erect an office on his property for real estate and insurance business which building is to be constructed by the Wille Construction Co.

Fred Meeske is now located in his new store and has made quite a few changes to bring his equipment up-to-date, his phones are 41 and 31.

Have you attended the sale now being held at William Busse, Jr.'s, Dry Goods Store. He is offering some exceptional values to his patrons in appreciation of their past business and is reducing his stock to the lowest possible mark so that when he moves into the new store he will have an entirely new stock, new fixtures and in fact everything in the store will be new except the owner and personnel and policy of the best merchandise at the lowest possible price.

Milburn Bros. have finished better than half of their contracts for paving and from indications they will finish their entire program before the end of the season.

We are to have a new review of our village in the real estate news which will give a real survey of conditions in Mt. Prospect of interest to home seekers. This will help bring people out to build in our midst. The last review was made in 1925.

Do you realize that we are constructing nearly ten miles of pavement this year that means we have about 20 miles of pavement inside our village limits taking into consideration the highway as well as our own streets.

Chief of Police Mulso is right on the job and is guarding the property in our village in a very efficient way with Mr. Gerstner as assistant in the waterworks department. Our village has a constant water pressure in its mains of about 50 to 60 pounds and both pumps are working in first class condition.

Elmhurst road is now opened thru to Higgins road which will make this a busy street during the balance of the summer as soon as the motorist learns this new cut to keep out of the Rand road jam on Saturdays and Sundays.

Let us start now to teach the children of the village that it is dangerous to play on the through streets and pavements as it may cause a serious accident to them and may cause some very dangerous accidents to automobile drivers as well as themselves.

In touring our village we are indeed pleased to see the cooperation given by the various citizens to the village officials and we are pleased to say we have the most peace loving village in the state.

The various merchants in our village are wearing their usual smiles that wont come off and the reason is that business is on the upward trend. We noticed that everyone of the stores are always busy, makes no difference what time of day. Many of them attribute part of their success to the new pavements which provide ample parking space.

Are you aware of the plans that are under way for a mammoth celebration when we dedicate our new pavements and school buildings which we hope will be about the middle of September.

The Woman's club had their basket picnic on Wednesday, July 20, at Northwestern Park, Des Plaines. Games were played and races run. Prizes were presented to the winners of the various races and other contests.

The day was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended and the children in particular had an ideal holiday.

The club will have another basket picnic on Wednesday, August 10th at the same place. This time they will leave Mount Prospect at 2 p. m. and the husbands will be invited to be there in time for the "eat."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wille and family left last week for their vacation.

Polishing Surfaces

"Grinding" is a general term. "Leaping" is a method of grinding interior and exterior surfaces in a lathe by friction of lead cylinders or clamps supplied with oil and a fine abrasive powder. The method is used where it is necessary to obtain an exceedingly smooth and polished surface, as in the manufacture of ordnance.

Old Flanders

Medieval Flanders comprised the present provinces of East and West Flanders in Belgium, the southern part of the province of Zealand in the Netherlands and part of the departments of Nord and Pas-de-Calais in France.

HEALTH GRAMS

Flying to Paris and Honolulu can be done because the airplane pilots know how to feed the engines they drive. The richness and amount of gasoline mixtures leaving the carburetor must vary with altitude in order to keep the motor working perfectly. It is that way with people too. What folks eat has a profound influence over how they feel, how hard their teeth and bones are and how free they are from ill health and disease.

A bad mixture of gas does not make an engine stop suddenly. At first there is just the slightest "knock." Then there comes a sputter. Later a pounding noise and heavy vibration sets in. Eating coffee, meat, potatoes and bread alone makes the human body do much the same thing. The child who doesn't get milk, spinach, carrots, green beans, cabbage, oranges, apples, bananas and the like is apt to have knock knees, scallow complexion, poor teeth, bad digestion and other somewhat minor defects which finally lead to such serious complaints as heart disease, nephritis, cancer, tuberculosis, etc. Improper diet does not cause these diseases directly but it leaves the body without the robust strength which is needed to keep sickness from starting.

Most diseases are like thieves. They go after the careless folks who take too much for granted. Tuberculosis, for instance, never dares bother the fellow who eats three square meals a day, tans his skin in the sunlight, bathes his lungs with clean air from a roofless sky and sleeps eight out of 24 hours near an open window. Smallpox shuns the man with a good vaccination scar. Typhoid fever avoids the particular person who insists on pasteurized milk, safe water and clean hands. So it is with most of the other ailments.

The Dempsey-Sharkey fight cost the fans a round million dollars according to prevailing opinion. That sum of money judiciously spent in educating the people of Illinois would virtually wipe diphtheria out of the state. In one case the people who pay will get an hour's entertainment. In the other they would save between 500 and 1000 lives per year and prevent something like 5000 cases of dangerous and costly sickness.

Historians contend that nearly all of the contagious diseases in the state were brought here by man. If man brought them here it seems reasonable to conclude that man can take them away if he goes at the job in the right manner. It's a poor rule that won't work both ways.

There were, for instance, plenty of mosquitoes in Illinois, long before the white man arrived but no malaria. White men brought in malaria. The mosquitoes became infected and then they began to infect all comers. In the early days malaria was so common and so fatal that the Illinois country had a wide reputation as a most unhealthy place. Then malaria was unconsciously driven out as man drained the land for economic reasons.

Typhoid fever was brought in by the white man. There is no evidence that the Indians ever suffered from this disease. But typhoid fever, like the people and the country too well to let go so readily as did malaria. It took lots of hard work consciously directed to get this plague unfastened. Now that it is on the run and approaching the vanishing point, man can say "Here is one disease that I have deliberately expelled from the state." If he can send one infection away it appears reasonable to assume that others can be disinherited in like manner.

Unfortunate

After publishing the bans of marriage of five couples, a Bath (England) clergyman announced the next hymn, "Forgive them, O My Father, they know not what they do."

Not a New Discovery

A scientist has discovered that plant growth may be speeded up by applying manganese and other metals. It has long been known that the application in the shape of a hoe works wonders on plant growth.

Theory vs. Practice

A "sham battle" would be a great relief to the mind if there were any assurance that a real battle would follow the pattern. It lays down with any degree of respect.—Washington Star.

Pride of Religion

Be sure of this: Pride in fine workmanship, being of the essence of self-respect, is also of the essence of religion.—Harry Emerson Fosdick, in Psychology Magazine.

EAST MAINE

Mr. and Mrs. August Jensen had their infant son christened Melvin Martin, by Rev. Toepel Sunday morning.

Miss Elva Toepel spent Sunday as a guest of Miss Ruth Niebuhr at Mt. Prospect.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Holm of Blue Island, spent Saturday night and Sunday at the Geo. Steil home, Mr. Holm having attended the board meeting of the Cook County Farmers Mutual Ins. Co. held Saturday evening at the home of Aug. Geweke.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ahrens, Mr. and Mrs. John Ahrens, Julius Lainer and son Helmut enjoyed a motor trip Sunday in Ahrens' Chrysler "80" to Indiana where they visited the old home and friends of the Lainer family.

Have you heard that the East Maine Pleasure club will give a picnic? When? Why, Saturday evening, August 13. Where? In John Mueller's grove at Morton Grove. The Marquette orchestra will be on deck to do their share to help everyone have an enjoyable time so don't forget to attend.

Miss Caroline Schuett of Evanston, was caught in a most delightful "shower" which occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Moeller, Saturday evening. Miss Schuett was surprised with a large variety of lovely and beautiful gifts from well wishing relatives and friends in honor of her coming marriage to Mr. John Moeller of East Maine. After the first effects of the shower were over and the sun shone again the bride-to-be opened the heap of presents expressing her appreciation to the crowd. Bunco and a dainty luncheon served to conclude the evening enjoyably for all.

After awaiting the game between the home team and the Evanston Elks with eagerness, both the team and the splendid crowd of fans were disappointed when the colored boys at the eleventh hour decided not to come out because they did not care to play in a rural district. But because the crowd had come to see a ball game, the team added a few trusty subs to their number and with Team No. 1 under Chas. Rolla and Team No. 2 under Teddie Miller, furnished an interesting game. Teddie's team was victorious at the end of the ninth by a score of 8 to 4. Two runs were scored by Goettsche and Burmeister, of Charley's team, in the first inning, while Johnnie Lehman of Teddie's team, scored in the second and Behrens tied the score in the fourth. Then in the seventh, Geo. Rohde singled and scored breaking the tie, but in the ninth inning, No. 2 added 5 runs to their tally, one of them on a double by Behrens who was sent across the pan by E. Rohde's homer. That was all the scoring Teddie's men did but it was more than enough to win the game for when No. 1 came up for their half of the ninth, Ray singled and scored when Archam sent out a beautiful liner which looked as if it were good for two or possibly three

Repairing Levees

"Blanketing a levee" means dumping large loads of dry dirt into the river in front of the levee, in order to plaster up small leaks.
When a leak does occur in a levee, as long as the stream of water flowing out on the land side is clear there is no danger, but when this water becomes muddy, repairs are immediately necessary.

Chevrolet On Tour Of National Parks

Bound on a circle tour of all the National Parks of the west, a Chevrolet Imperial landau recently left Los Angeles, under the direction of the Chevrolet Motor company, to explore the scenic wonder-lands, secure pictures of the countless spots of surpassing interest and report on the general conditions of the highways leading to them.

Recognized the country over as a region of unrivaled charm and beauty, the western national parks are drawing a record number of tourists this year. Although the south, east and middle west, in fact all America, is represented by vacationists who are taking advantage of fine ribbons of concrete to explore the wonder theatre of nature, the average American motorist has yet to visit the section.
And it is in the interests of those who have yet to enjoy this sustained treat as well as those who have made the trips that the Chevrolet National Parks car is on its way.

Authorities in charge of the National Parks system are in hearty accord with the action of the Chevrolet Motor company. The car carries a letter from A. M. Demaray, acting director of the National Park Service, commending the automobile and its crew and introducing them to the superintendents in the west.

Educational authorities, too, have interested themselves in the move of the Chevrolet Motor Company to give more publicity to the recreational features of our national parks. Harold Stonier, vice president of the University of Southern California, acting as official starter, congratulated the pilot, W. S.
Wood, and waved success to the party as the Chevrolet swept across the campus of the famous California institution, headed for Zion National Park in southwestern Utah.

The National Parks Chevrolet will then proceed to the north rim of the Grand Canyon, visiting enroute the newest national monument at Pipe Springs. From the north rim and the great Kaibab forest, where winter snowdrifts are still lying in the sheltered canyons, the Chevrolet will visit Bryce Canyon and from there double back to Cedar Breaks, and thence to Salt Lake City.

From Salt Lake the car will head east for Rock Mountain National Park, near Denver, and go from there to Mesa Verde, where the most remarkable cliff dwellings to be found in the west are preserved under the supervision of the government.

From Mesa Verde the car will proceed to Yellowstone and thence to Glacier National Park, far upward toward the Canadian line.
West from there the Chevrolet will head for Ranier National Park.
Homeward bound once more down the Pacific coast, Crater Lake, Lassen, Yosemite, General Grant and Sequoia will complete the list of parks on the long trail ahead of the Chevrolet.

The car carries nothing more in the way of special equipment than a set of chains, which very likely will not be used once on the entire journey.

Bond of Brotherhood

Between Poetic Souls

A certain young woman, a stenographer for a New York firm, is best known in an admiring suburban circle as a "poetess." She jots her inspirations down in shorthand and transcribes them on her typewriter and submits the effusions to the local newspaper, which sometimes finds place for them.

One morning as she was commuting from New Jersey there was a heavy fog on the North river and the ferryboat was proceeding on its way gropingly, with frequent stops and much whistling. At one time, out of the gloom, a great hoarse whistle, suggesting an ocean liner, sounded near. There was a stir of uneasiness among the crowded passengers, and the poet's male companion looked up from his newspaper with a nervous frown.

"Are you afraid?" he asked of the poetess.

"Afraid?" the word came with withering scorn. "Afraid? Why, you know Shelly died by drowning."—Harper's Magazine.

Mythical Prophetess

Mother Shipton, the reputed English prophetess, is said to have lived in the time of Henry VIII. She is first heard of in 1641 in a pamphlet called "The Prophecies of Mother Shipton." Later many verses of "prophecy" were ascribed to her, and there is room for doubt that she ever existed.

Stained Glass Makes Appeal to Converts

In the center of a Christian settlement in the jungle of Madak, Hyderabad, India, stands a Christian church of the proportions of a cathedral. This is the central place of worship for the great community of Indian Christians, numbering over 50,000, who have gathered around Rev. C. V. Postell, a Wesleyan missionary, as a result of his 30 years' work in this native state.
The church was opened a year ago, but there seemed something lacking in its beautiful interior, despite the marbles and many tinted tiles.
There was no stained glass in the windows.

Six thousand Indian Christians have given the money for a window, designed by Frank O. Salisbury, a well-known British artist. The subject is the Ascension, and Mr. Salisbury says of the windows: "The desire of the donors was that the church should be as beautiful as any Mohammedan mosque or Hindu temple, and I trust that my work will help them to realize their ideal of beauty as an aid to worship."

India's Holi Festival

At the time of the vernal equinox, on the night of the full moon, the popular Holi festival is celebrated by the Hindus of India. The ceremonies, lasting for three days, are derived from the ancient spring festival. This festival, originally a solemn religious rite, has degenerated and is now known as the Saturnalia of India. Bonfires are lit around the temples and sacrifices are made to the gods. Red powder called kunkuma is thrown about, as Occidents throw confetti, and the clothing of the people becomes covered with it.

Literary Fame Came

Slowly to Johnson

Samuel Johnson gained little money when he compiled an English dictionary, but the work served to make his reputation secure. He had been in London ten years, living obscurely, as a hack writer and slowly winning a reputation when he was given a chance to prepare the dictionary, for which he was to receive $4,500.

It took him seven years to complete the tremendous work and he had to pay several assistants. The work is remembered not because of its merits, but largely because of Johnson's letter to the earl of Chesterfield, who had rebuffed the editor until he heard the dictionary was nearing completion and then hoped to be regarded as one of the benefactors of the scholar.

Upon the publication of the dictionary, Johnson was given recognition as the greatest living figure in English literature. Fielding was dead, Richardson was living in retirement, Gibbon was in Switzerland, Gray and Cowper were publishing little. Johnson was hailed as England's greatest scholar. The honor had been slow in coming, for 18 years had passed since he had left Lichfield to make his fortune in London.—Kansas City Star.

August Hackbarth is again a blacksmith. Not that he ever looked down on the profession which made him "rich" but he is back in the harness again at the Arlington track. His present duties consist in being on the job to attend to emergency blacksmith repair work. He says there isn't nothing like getting in on the ground floor. Who knows but that when racing starts he can get his tips when shoeing horses in the morning and profit by those tips during the afternoon racing. With August Hackbarth on the job, Palatine can take more of a proprietary interest in that track.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Butler left Saturday to spend ten days touring in the southern part of the state. The main object of visit is of course the "old home town" at Grayville, but they will wander wherever inclination directs them. Fred Heuer is driving a new Reo Wolverine brougham.

Palatine Diamond Dust

Sunday, July 24th, the Palatine "Indians" were scheduled to play the Chicago "Leland Giants" one of the middleweight's foremost colored teams. Evidently the colored boys assumed Palatine would be a "fish" game for they sent their second team, a bunch of youngsters who went down to an inglorious defeat 14 to 3. Very little can be said of the ball game other than the fact that the colored boys were very much outclassed in every department of the game. A factor of amusement to the fans was the effort of the colored catcher to re-organize his team thru-out the game. The attendance was encouraging and the ten seats now held by republicans whose terms expire March 4, 1929. In the state of Washington, Senator Dill can be easily defeated, provided, of course, the republicans develop a reasonable amount of unanimity for a candidate. In Utah, Senator King can be defeated. He won the last time by a narrow margin, and his continued adverse democratic attitude in opposition to the sugar beet industry should make his ousting easy, provided, of course, the republicans themselves will give united support to the republican nominee.

Montana republicans are anticipating that the natural enthusiasm connected with the presidential election brings the defeat of Senator Wheeler within the line of possibility. In this case, it must be confessed, no really definite steps have been taken for the selection of the republican opponent, but there are plenty of possibilities. Key Pittman of Nevada has to tempt fate in 1928, and here again there is a serious feeling in view of the figures in the Oddie-Baker contest in 1926 that the seat can be won by the republicans. A battle is to be made against Kendrick of Wyoming. It is impossible, at this time, to forecast its lines.

Michigan republicans, who have shown a new militant spirit, are anticipating most comfortably the defeat of Senator Ferris and the substitution of a republican.

In Missouri, Senator Jim Reed has declared that he will not be a candidate for re-election, and as yet no definite word is at hand as to the likely democratic nominee to succeed him. Beginning with 1904, Missouri has been inclined toward republicanism in national elections.

There are grounds for the hope that there another republican brand can be plucked from the burning.

The hint that Senator Jones of New Mexico, because of the condition of his health, may not seek re-election, has led to serious discussion of the possibility in that event of electing a republican because of the inability of the democrats to pick a man of equal strength to Jones. The republicans are probably including within the list of possibilities the defeat of Senators Edwards of New Jersey, Copeland of New York, Gerry of Rhode Island, Neely of West Virginia, Bruce of Maryland, Bayard of Delaware.

Secretary Hoover, while with the president at Rapid City, successfully blew up the levees which the extra congress session people have been trying to raise, demanding an extra session of congress. Mr. Hoover, without mincing words or motions, declared the president was absolutely right that an extra session for flood relief would be apt to do more harm than good, and that the problem of flood relief was one of finance and engineering and not a politics. It was about time that this was said and Mr. Hoover, who has the greatest understanding as an engineering observer of actual conditions of what is the right thing was the one real man to make the statement.

Secretary Hoover also at the same time cleared up once and for all the stories and intimations that he was considering a presidential campaign. He declared that he sincerely expected and hoped for the re-election of President Coolidge, and to that end he was going to give his best energy.

OUR WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

The Republican National Committee booklet on Congress and its good deeds has set the republicans of the country to figuring in a most optimistic manner as to their opportunities in the 1928 senatorial elections. Thirty-two of the upper chamber will have to stand for re-election. Twenty-one of this total are democrats, ten are republicans and one, Shipstead of Minnesota, represents the farmer-labor party. This is in direct contrast to the 1926 election when the majority of those who had to go to the polls were republicans.

Republican experts and workers are figuring, and with considerable justification, on the possibility of capturing 14 of the 21 seats now held by democrats. They do not anticipate any trouble in electing republicans to the ten seats now held by republicans whose terms expire March 4, 1929. In the state of Washington, Senator Dill can be easily defeated, provided, of course, the republicans develop a reasonable amount of unanimity for a candidate. In Utah, Senator King can be defeated. He won the last time by a narrow margin, and his continued adverse democratic attitude in opposition to the sugar beet industry should make his ousting easy, provided, of course, the republicans themselves will give united support to the republican nominee.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Just recently a new organization of boy scouts has been experimented with. The game and fish commission of West Virginia are sponsoring the new troop which they call the West Virginia Forest Scouts. One boy from any troop is eligible to membership.

Each member of the West Virginia Forest Scouts will be given a definite task to do over the period of one year. He will be expected to produce tangible results in forest fire prevention. A scout may continue his membership in the Forest Scouts as long as he continues to faithfully perform his duties as outlined in the requirements.

For exceptional meritorious service beyond the ordinary requirements Boy Scouts will receive prompt and suitable recognition by the state authorities of Virginia.

The police department of Augusta, Ga., publicly thanked the boy scouts for the assistance which they gave the police in directing traffic and policing the crowds during the Memorial Day exercises.

Boy Scouts of Troop 558 of Chicago, rendered splendid service to their community recently by volunteering their service as aids to state rangers, and later by cleaning all street signs in their locality.

Boy Scouts of troop 5 Cicero, assisted the Welfare center and day nursery of their municipality, distributed safety cards for the police department and acted as special guards at school street crossings throughout the year.

There is evidence everywhere of the deeds of scouts. Militarism and the flag has always appealed to the boy. He sees in the flag an ideal and in militarism the means of protecting that ideal. Love of flag and love of country always has and always will go hand in hand with good, upright and honest living.

That is the ideal we hold for our boys. They are the pioneers of the coming generation. They have ideals which hold them to righteousness and these ideals as well as the boys themselves must be protected. The boy scout movement was started with this end in view—the training, protection, and betterment of the American youth. Could any aim be more laudable?

A boy scout does a good turn for some one every day. Do your good turn today and every day by becoming interested in our boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Stewart and son Raymond of East St. Louis, Ill., are stopping with Mr. Stewart's sister Mrs. B. H. Nation and will leave soon for a tour of the eastern states and Canada before returning home.

Good news for all lovers of "hot dogs." We learned at a recent picnic at Dam No. 2 that Mr. Nation was a great lover of hot dogs and did not realize at the time to what extent he would go to insure a goodly supply of the nationally famous morsel until we learned that he had purchased a champion, full blooded Great Dane weighing 150 pounds.

Miss Janet Grubbs is visiting Miss Lois Beth Wingert in Chicago this week.

We all remember during last election, or just before, what wonderful prospects were in store for us if we just did the right thing and voted for this one or that one. Well we hope we haven't gone to the well once too often. There was a meeting some time ago about paving the streets. There was much conversation and different propositions were proposed. One man had the opening of Belmont avenue arranged. Up to the present, nothing has been done as far as can be seen. We just wonder if every one is taking a vacation, or is it just careless neglect? Must be one or the other for no one is running for office at present. We believe the people are at a point now where they intend getting something done. If this town is to be held back for some purpose, then we should be informed what the reason is. We believe we have a splendid board of village officers and we know they want to do the right thing, only we hope the fish don't bite too well or too long for it won't be long before the snow and ice will be on the ground and another Merry Xmas will be upon us.

RIVER GROVE

Police Golf club on Thacker road is being rapidly cleared preparatory to its invasion by eager golf bugs. It will be a private club for members of the Chicago Police department and their friends. Great pains are being taken to make it equal to the best with 18 holes.

A petition in objection to Clinton street paving has been circulated and bears nearly 30 per cent of the frontage signatures. It will be presented to the board at the next regular meeting for consideration. It is our contention that such measures are in all respect detrimental to a community like ours. We will always be in the mud unless the thinking citizen turns a deaf ear to chronic kickers on every improvement. The street assessment which is comparatively small with those of other villages covers a period of ten years and is one which everyone can meet easily. Street paving like all the other improvements which have been installed goes to increase the property value and convenience of the public and should be endorsed by all who desire a beautiful homesite and an up-to-date village. Yes, sir, we are strong for paving of all streets.

The fourth bunco party for the benefit of St. Cyprians was given Monday evening. A better attendance is desired and a cordial welcome extended to all to attend these parties.

Send in your subscription for the Cook County Herald and keep up with River Grove events.

Grand Opening

of the
Schroeder Drug Store
Palatine, Illinois

Friday and Saturday
July 29 and 30

After the expenditure of many thousands of dollars, a new building has risen upon the site of the old store. New fixtures throughout have been installed. New merchandise placed in the cases. Everything is new except the personnel of the clerks. Even among these two new faces appear.

We kept our store open for business throughout the remodeling process, when we were greatly handicapped in giving service to our customers. Those days are now past. We believe our building stands as a monument to the business district, and we are now in a position to render a real service to the public. The increased business that has already resulted from the installation of a modern drug store has brought increased trade. We are going to celebrate our new opening this Friday and Saturday by a big money saving sale and the giving away of many hundreds of dollars worth of souvenirs.

We want every parent in the Palatine trading center to visit us during those two days. We want them to look our store over. We want to give each one an individual brick of ice cream. We will have special gifts for the ladies and lolly pops and balloons for the children.
